GINTER PARK WILL FIGHT ANNEXATION

Town Council Instructs Mayor and Attorney to Oppose Plan in Court.

WANT LIBERAL IMPROVEMENT

Will Come In if Richmond Will Agree to Equalize Bond Issue.

The Town Council of Ginter Park voted unanimously last night to instruct the Mayor and attorney to oppose with all the means at their command every plan providing for the annexation of Ginter Park to Richmond without adequate provision for local improvements, to which residents of that settlement think they are entitled. The resolution instructs the town officers to carry the issue to the courts if necessary.

The action follows a warning sounded Monday night before the special committee on annexation by Mayor John Garland Pollard, of Ginter Park, who outlined in a general way the conditions that town would expect as a condition of submitting to annexation by the city of Richmond. Ginter Park he told the committee, would not be satisfied with the improvements guaranteed to new territory under the general annexation act.

Want Bond Issue Equalized. Ginter Park, according to Mr. Pollard's statement to the committee, would expect the city of Richmond to do for it what it can do for itself. The general annexation act could compel the expenditure in Ginter Park of the taxes upon assessed realty values of that town for a period of five years from the date of annexation. Aside from this restriction, the town would be dependent upon Richmond's inclination for further improvements.

Mr. Pollard said the annexation committee expected the city of Richmond to do for it what it can do for itself. The general annexation act could compel the expenditure in Ginter Park of the taxes upon assessed realty values of that town for a period of five years from the date of annexation. Aside from this restriction, the town would be dependent upon Richmond's inclination for further improvements.

To adjust all differences, Mr. Pollard suggested that the annexation committee appoint a subcommittee to confer with a committee from the town Council of Ginter Park on the plan of annexation. The annexation committee took no action on the suggestion, holding the opinion that it was beyond its jurisdiction to enter into the question of terms when it was appointed by the City Council to draw up a boundary line.

Resents Refusal to Confer. "The annexation committee refused to confer with us on the question of annexation terms," said Mr. Pollard, last night. "The failure to secure a conference has driven the town Council to act in its own defense, and its action instructing the Mayor and attorney to oppose annexation unless equitable terms are made, is a step in this direction."

Ginter Park has already authorized a bond issue of $125,000 for local improvements. We can sell these at any time, and install improvements which we could not possibly get under a strict construction of the annexation act. Under the Ginter Park resolution the Mayor and town officers are instructed to fight the annexation of that suburb through every court.

MUTINOUS GIRLS FINALLY SUBDUE

Return to Duties at Bon Air
Home After Being Lectured by Mrs. Light.

BEVERLY BANKS WILL QUIT

County Officers Sent to Guard
Institution at Night Because of Threats.

After their rebellion of Monday, when they attacked Miss Edna Wright, threw rocks at policemen and caused a riot call to be sent for the police, the girls at the Virginia Home and Industrial School for Girls, near Bon Air, Chesapeake County, yesterday became quiet and returned to their daily tasks, under the direction of Mrs. M. M. Light, matron. Mrs. Light said last night that she did not anticipate any further outbreak on the part of her charges, and thought she had them well in hand. However, last night, as a precaution, County Officers Inman and Traylor were sent to maintain a guard at the institution should the incorrigibles again start trouble.

Beverly Banks, the negro helper, who was one of the causes which led to the recent investigation of affairs at the institution, who has been the object of much criticism, and who on Monday received an anonymous letter threatening him with lynching if he did not quit the place in forty-eight hours, has determined to leave. Just when he will go is not known, as he has agreed to remain until his place can be filled.

Persons connected with the institution say that Banks has been more than a valuable employee, and his services will be a decided loss to the home. But he determined that life recently at the home has not been worth living, and so said he would leave.

Following their attack Monday upon Miss Wright, special investigator employed to examine feeble-minded inmates, the mutinous girls that afternoon attacked county policemen who had been sent to guard the gates of the grounds surrounding the home. Rocks were thrown and Miss Wright, Cowan and Policeman Jarrell were slightly hurt by the flying missiles.

It was some time before Mrs. Light could restore order, but she finally suppressed the uprising and yesterday found all of the girls peacefully at their duties.

Prays With Girls. "Did you punish any of the girls for the outbreak?" Mrs. Light was asked.

"No," she replied, "it is seldom I punish any of them. I pray with them, and find that a better effort. Rev. J. C. Huston, secretary of the State Board of Charities and Corrections, was still out of town last night. Dr. Douglas Freeman, a member of the board, said he did not believe that the conduct of the girls would lead to any further investigation.

He said the unfavorable reports of affairs at the institution had been thoroughly investigated, and the conditions were found to be generally satisfactory, and he saw no need for a repetition of the investigation.

Immunized Baptist Will Give Cinematograph "Life of Esther."

Immunized Baptist will give at 8:15 this evening a cinematograph showing the "Life of Esther." Superintendent P. E. W. Cook, who is in charge of the institution, said that there will be no admission fee, and that teachers, pupils and friends of the home are cordially invited to witness the exhibition.

The "Life of Esther" will be portrayed in ten moving pictures in the biblical account and realistically mounted. The films have been recently imported, and were colored in the most up-to-date manner by the famous Perian studios.

Will Meet Friday. The State Board of Education to Complete Election of Superintendents. The State Board of Education will meet here on Friday to complete the election of division school superintendents not completed at the July meeting. Twenty contested cases were passed by at that time, some in order that the members might take more fully into the qualifications of the applicants, and others because there were plans pending for the rearrangement of the school districts.

In the recent political campaign the postmaster of the institution caused a great deal of comment especially as Attorney General Williams, who is an ex-officio member of the board, had been elected. The board members were in the campaign, and Attorney General Williams withdrew as a candidate for the superintendency in Wythe County.

Governor Going to Denver. Governor and Mrs. William Byrd Mann will leave Richmond on August 22 for a trip to Denver, Colo., to attend the annual conference of the National Association of Governors. The trip will last two weeks, the trip alone occupying four days in each direction. The conference will be held in Denver, Colo., and will be attended by the governors of all the states.

Debt Conference Postponed. Notice was received in Richmond yesterday of the postponement of further conferences in regard to the West Virginia debt question until some time in September. A joint meeting of the Virginia and West Virginia Debt Commissions had been scheduled to take place this week in Washington, and the postponement was at the suggestion of the West Virginia side.

ROULEDER FINED IN POLICE COURT

Locked Up in Office Building All Night, While Dugan and Lear Stood Watch.

SAY HE ACCOSTED WOMAN

Husband and Policeman Chased
Him Up Main Street
Through Ninth.

"Hello, kid!" cooed J. L. Rouleder, a real estate dealer with offices in the Old Dominion Trust Company Building, at 114 South Main Street, 225 yesterday morning in Police Court. He was convicted on the charge of accosting a woman, and immediately started dressing that remark to Mrs. J. D. Kenner, of 705 East Leigh Street, on Monday night, while she was awaiting her husband, who had gone into the post-office.

Rouleder was trapped by a neat ruse on the part of Patrolman Lear. As Mr. Kenner came out of the post-office he saw Rouleder making advances toward his wife, and immediately started on a run to her assistance. Rouleder fled, and Lear, who saw the pursuit, joined in the chase. Rouleder ran up Main Street to Ninth, turned north and ran into the side and only entrance to the office building. A colored boy who was at the entrance told Lear and Kenner that the man they wanted had gone into the building. Lear made a thorough search of the place, but was unable to find any trace of the man he sought.

Locked Up All Night. Lear was confident that Rouleder, whose identity at that time was not known, was still in the building. He barred the door from the outside, and as there was no other means of exit he was sure he could capture Rouleder when the building was opened at daybreak. The chase took place at 9 o'clock Monday night.

When Lear was relieved of duty by patrolman Dugan, he told the latter what had occurred. Dugan, who was on duty at the time, and when the janitor arrived yesterday morning, Dugan started in to search, first locking the inside of the door to prevent Rouleder's escape. He started on the fourth, the top floor, and went to each office. His search was rewarded when he came to the second floor, and found Rouleder seated at a desk in his office.

Mrs. Kenner Identifies Him. Rouleder denied that he had accosted any woman in the street, but this did not satisfy Dugan, and he escorted his prisoner to the home of Mrs. Kenner, who unhesitatingly identified Rouleder. She was then taken to the First Police Station and bailed for his appearance in court.

Mrs. Kenner said that Rouleder came up to her and said: "Hello, kid," and she warned him to move away. Instead, Rouleder is alleged to have reached out and attempted to kiss her. She put his hand on Mrs. Kenner. It was at this point that her husband arrived, and Rouleder fled.

Rouleder appealed from the $25 fine. Mr. Rouleder said last night that he had taken an appeal and would fight the matter to the bitter end.

CAR HITS BUGGY, INJURING TWO

Askin Children Thrown From Buggy in Accident on Broad Street.

Two daughters of M. Askin, of 2509 Kensington Avenue, Rich., aged twelve years, and Evelyn, aged two, were badly bruised and may have been hurt internally, when a buggy which they occupied was hit by a Broad and Main Street car in Broad Street at Foushee. The buggy was almost completely wrecked. George Cook, the negro driver, escaped injury by jumping. The accident happened almost in front of the store of Mr. Askin, 2 West Broad Street, where the children had been to see him. Cook was driving their home, and just as the buggy was crossing the tracks the westbound car hit it. Both children were thrown out. Cook, assisted by persons who hurried to the scene, took them to their father's store, where it was found that they were painfully bruised, they were not seriously hurt. They were able to go to their home on a street car.

Mr. Askin said last night that his family physician had examined the children's injuries, but could not tell the full extent until to-day.

The car which struck the buggy was in charge of Motorman J. B. Atkins and Conductor J. S. Mastin.

Poore formerly operated a shooting gallery in Bristol. Archer, who was a well-known man, was visiting in the town when he was killed. The governor's action not having been given out at his office here.

WEATHER PRAK'S QUEER IN AUGUST

Mercury Drops to 64 at 3 o'clock,
While Rain Makes Town
Chilly.

BETTER THAN THE SEASHORE

Hot Wave Spreads Over West,
Oklahoma Sweltering
at 100.

While Oklahoma yesterday registered a maximum temperature of 100, a cool wave was sweeping over the East, sending temperatures to the lowest August figure at many points in twenty-four hours. The 3 o'clock reading in Richmond was 64, exactly thirty degrees lower than at the same hour on Sunday. Weather Bureau Evans reported that the maximum for last night was 72, although at 8 o'clock last night it was 84, exactly the same as at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Just to show that nobody is able to understand anything about humidity, the humidity record yesterday was 95, so you can guess that it might have been except for the rain.

Sixty-four degrees on August 12 is unseasonable, to say the least. The damp weather kept everybody indoors, and many were still uncomfortable, though it brought a whole lot of satisfaction to the stay-at-home, for friends, relatives and acquaintances had hiked off to mountain and seashore, to escape the heat which scorched the land on Sunday.

Washington Breaks Record. A dispatch from Washington last night stated that the record for August 12 during the past twenty-four hours was broken when the mercury dropped to 64 degrees. The Times-Dispatch by the local Weather Bureau put Washington down at 64, across the boards, which means 8 P. M., the maximum for the day, and the lowest during the night. The record discrepancy, however, does not cut much figure, for all agreed that Washington was cool, and so it was. Norfolk, with rain, was even cooler than Richmond, while Atlantic City was two degrees warmer. In the mountain section, well up in the eighties.

Very Hot in Spots. But in spots it was oppressively hot. Oklahoma, for instance, climbing to the century mark, with Kansas City running a close second at 98. St. Louis being the same. Down South it is warm enough to send hundreds of merchants to Richmond for "Better Acquaintance Week," for in Charleston and Savannah it was 94, with mosquitoes biting better than perch.

In this section the rains seem to have been general. There was no downpour in Richmond, just a steady fall during the afternoon and early in the night, and the streets were deserted. With these local disturbances, the weather sharps are unable to speculate on high temperatures, but so long as they make it halfway comfortable, nobody is apt to make a congressional inquiry. Still, at 64 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon isn't the proper sort of weather for August, if one is to judge by the regular dope.

ROBBERIES REPORTED

Cullen's Pocket Picked While Attending Reception on Roof Garden.

J. A. Cullen, 202 East Grace Street, yesterday reported to the police that his pocket was picked of a watch Monday night while he was attending a reception at the "Acquaintance Week" on the roof of the Richmond Hotel.

Mr. J. M. Campbell, of 510 East Leigh Street, also reported the theft of a watch. E. E. Burnett, of 90 North Thirty-fourth Street, reported his house entered and ransacked. The only thing missing was a small sum of cash.

Increases Pollard's Lead. Revised election returns from Grayson County, received yesterday, give Senator John Garland Pollard over Judge Samuel Williams by thirteen votes. The returns give the county for Pollard 101 for Williams 88. The returns received on the night of the election placed the county in the Williams column by twenty-eight votes. The complete returns are expected to increase the plurality of Pollard by forty-one votes.

Franklin Made Bank Examiner. W. C. Franklin was named by the State Corporation Commission yesterday as the next State Bank Examiner. He succeeds J. H. Elliott, who has resigned to accept the position of cashier of the National Valley Bank of Staunton. Mr. Franklin has been a bookkeeper for the Thomas Branch & Co. He will enter on his new duties August 16. Mr. Franklin makes his home in South Richmond.

Charters Issued. Charters were given by the State Corporation Commission yesterday as follows: A. C. Choler, Stock Remedy Corporation, Norfolk; C. D. Gilliam, president; W. W. Elliott, secretary—both of Norfolk.

Escapes Death Beneath Engine. Frank Underwood Displays Rare Presence of Mind and Saves His Life Under Wheels. The condition of Frank Underwood, forty-five years old, of 424 South Laurel Street, who escaped death in a remarkable manner yesterday morning beneath the wheels of a locomotive, was last night said to be satisfactory, and his recovery was predicted. Underwood, who is at Grace Hospital, is suffering from two fractured ribs, a broken arm and many bruises.

Underwood was crossing the tracks of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway at Sixth and Byrd Streets about 7:45 o'clock, when he was struck by a passing engine. With rare presence of mind, he grasped two iron bars he saw above his head, and pluckily held on until the locomotive was brought to a standstill, after he had been dragged nearly a block. Persons who witnessed the accident thought he had been mangled, but when he was brought from beneath the engine it was found he had escaped death.

He was removed to a near-by building and the City Hospital ambulance summoned. Dr. M. P. Torregrossa rendered emergency treatment and took him to the hospital.

SOUTHSIDE MAN TAKES POISON

Snead Saved After Drinking
Eight Ounces of Laudanum in Beer.

W. B. Snead, of 513 West Eleventh Street, South Richmond, who attempted to take his life by drinking laudanum yesterday morning, was sent to his home yesterday afternoon from the City Hospital, where he was rushed when found by members of his family. While still very weak from the shock, his condition is much improved, and the doctors say he will be all right in a few days.

In a fit of despondency Snead swallowed eight ounces of laudanum, which he had poured into a pitcher of beer. Before he drank it he kissed his little daughter good-by. The drug was secured from two drug stores on the north side in the early morning, four ounces being bought at each place.

But for the quick action of Ambulance Surgeon Torregrossa, who had to put the man by main force into the ambulance, the attempted suicide would have ended fatally. Snead reiterated to the doctors that he wanted to be cured from two drug stores on the north side in the early morning, four ounces being bought at each place.

Snead is forty-five years old, and has lived on the Southside for some time. He will be released by his friends and members of his family for four hours, will repeat the attempt to end his life. The married hotel will have a total frontage on Main Street of forty-four feet. Foundation work for the annex has been in progress for some time. The approval of the site, about $10,000. Plans for the improvement have been on file in the Building Inspector's office for more than a month, but their approval has been delayed pending the filing of complete specifications for the structural steel work.

The new building will conform to the same style of architecture as the old. Situated on the lot immediately to the west of the present structure, it will form with it a single building. The annex will represent the plan of the annex with the cost of the site of $10,000. With the cost of the site of $10,000. With the cost of the site of $10,000.

Other building permits were issued yesterday as follows:

S. S. Rosendorf, to repair the store at 1206 East Main Street, at a cost of $1,800.

Rosa W. Silver, to erect a frame shop on the south side of O Street, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Streets, at a cost of $100.

R. E. Brock, to repair a brick store at 323 North Twenty-fifth Street, at a cost of $135.

Cottrell Saddlery Company, to repair brick store on the north side of Franklin Street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets, at a cost of $100.

Edgar, to repair brick store at 224 North Seventeenth Street, at a cost of $207.

Sampson Cook, to repair frame dwelling at 1500 Decatur Street, South Richmond, at a cost of $100.
